FRIDAY CLUB

A TRIBUTE TO THE VIBRANT LEGACY OF CHARLESTON HOUSE

We are thrilled to unveil our latest fabric collection, the Friday Club, inspired by the extraordinary creativity of Vanessa Bell and Duncan Grant's Charleston House in East Sussex. This historic home, transformed by Bell and Grant into a living canvas of artistic flair and insight, epitomizes the spirit of bold design and vivid color that defined their work and the iconic Bloomsbury Group.

The Friday Club, named after the seminal group established by Vanessa Bell that eventually evolved into the Bloomsbury Group, was a collective of artists and intellectuals who were the early disruptors of their time. Rejecting the dreary and fussy aesthetics of the Victorian era, they embraced simplicity, bright colours, and bold designs, producing home items imbued with art and a post-modernist ethos.

Our collection of seven new designs captures the essence of the Bloomsbury spirit—full of colour, fun, and lively mixes. Each fabric piece combines various techniques and materials, featuring a blend of weave, embroidery, and both digital and hand-blocked prints. The collection showcases a diverse range of fabrics including cotton, linen, velvet, and canvas, and highlights intricate details like appliqué stitching and fil coupé embroidery.

The Friday Club Collection is full of life and playfulness, designed to be savoured one piece at a time as a striking feature, or as part of a fabulous, eclectic mix. Each design pays homage to the vibrant and dynamic world of Charleston House, inviting you to bring a touch of its creative legacy into your own home.

Indulge in the Friday Club Collection and experience the joy of combining history, art, and bold design in a way that celebrates individuality and artistic expression. Let the spirit of the Bloomsbury Group inspire your interiors with our lively, dynamic fabrics that are sure to bring a burst of creativity and colour to any space.
